Ridership Analysis

June 2013: 20 weekdays, 5 Saturdays, 5 Sundays for ST Express, Central Link, Souder and Tacoma Link (21 weekdays, 5/Sat and 4/Sun in 2012)

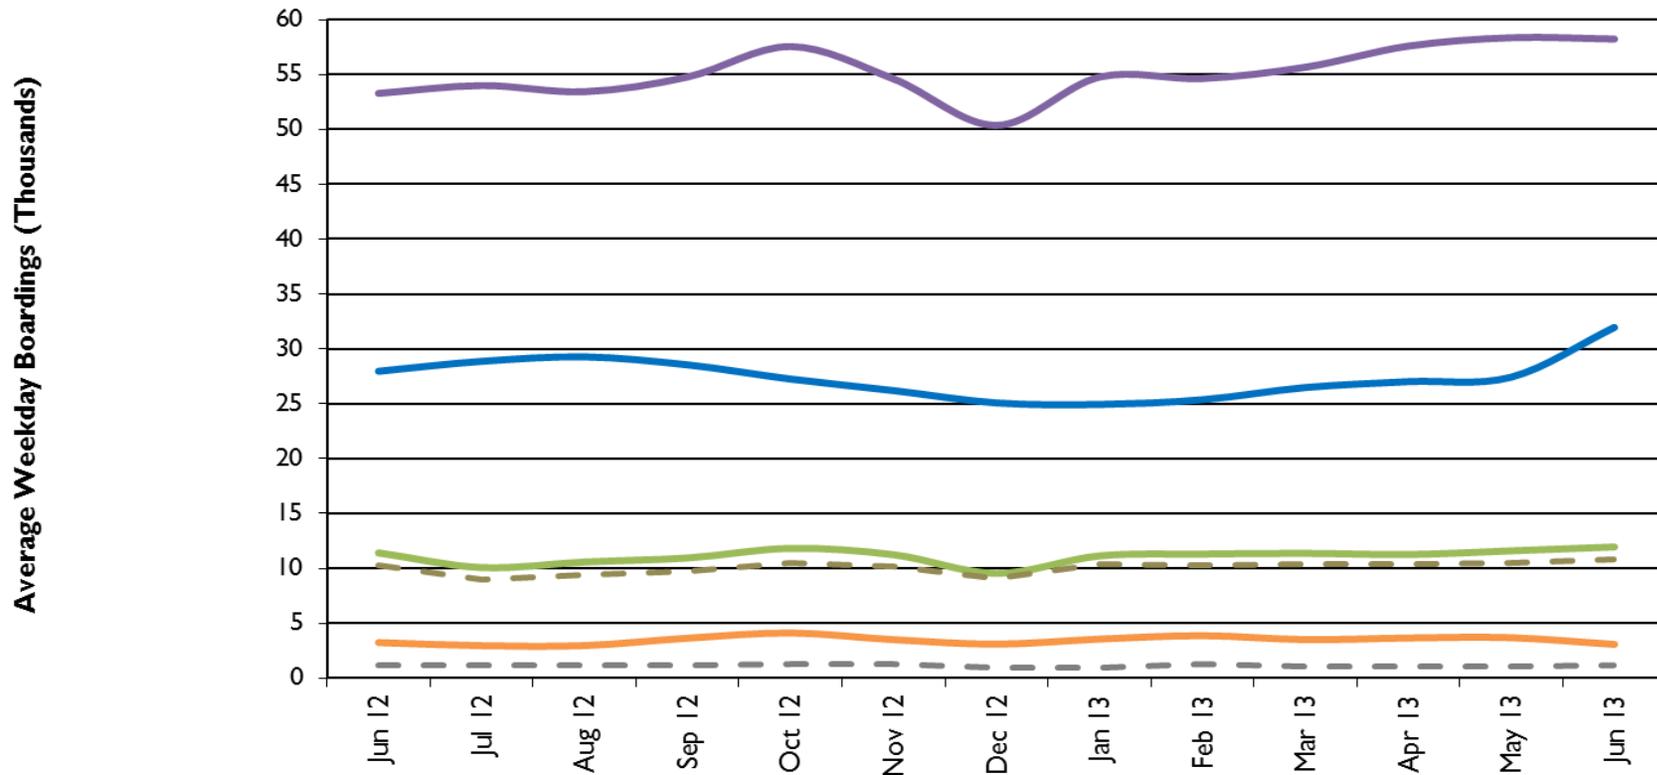

All Sound Transit modes experienced weekday ridership growth during June 2013 except Tacoma Link and Paratransit. June 2013 had one less weekday than in June 2012. Downtown Seattle local boardings continue to be included in the ST Express totals since the Ride Free Area was discontinued in October 2012. On ST Express, cross lake routes showed impressive ridership increases over June 2012 with 19%, 17%, and 18% more weekday ridership on routes 545, 550 and 554 respectively. Weekend service also had large gains in June on these same routes. Total Souder commuter train weekday ridership was up 5% over June 2012, which had one more weekday of train service. Average weekday Souder boardings increased by 5% on the south line and decreased by 1% on the north line. On Central Link, total boardings increased by 16%, the largest year over year increase in 2013. Central Link also broke several ridership records including monthly average weekday (31,953), record single weekday (June 11 at 38,362) and ridership for a Saturday (June 8th, 32,215). Tacoma Link ridership was slightly down possibly due to the Tacoma Convention Center having less events than in 2012 and one less weekday in June 2013.
