

APPENDIX L

Responses to Comments

November 2014

This appendix presents all of the comments received on the Draft SEIS and Sound Transit's responses. As part of the SEPA process, the Draft SEIS was circulated for a 45-day review and comment period starting June 13, 2014, and concluding July 28, 2014. More than 560 submissions were received. Appendix B, Agency Coordination and Public Involvement, of this Final SEIS describes in more detail the public outreach process used during the Draft SEIS phase.

Appendix L is organized as follows:

- List of Submissions
 - A full list of all the submissions (with page numbers provided to locate the submissions within Appendix L)
- Section 2.0: Tribal Comments and Responses
- Section 3.0: Agency Comments
 - Section 3.1: Federal agency comments and responses
 - Section 3.2: State agency and representative comments and responses
 - Section 3.3: County and transit agency comments and responses
 - Section 3.4: Other agency and institution comments and responses
- Section 4.0: City Comments and Responses
- Section 5.0: Organization Comments and Responses
- Section 6.0: Transcripts from Public Hearings and Responses
 - Section 6.1: Redmond public hearing transcript and responses
 - Section 6.2: Union Station public hearing transcript and responses

To locate a comment and response, identify the commenter in the List of Submissions. Submissions are grouped by categories (public agencies, groups, individuals, etc.), and each submission was assigned a submission number. Those who spoke at a public hearing are listed under their affiliation (individuals who spoke are listed under individuals). The page number in the List of Submissions first lists the section number and then the page number of the first page of the submission. For example, a submission labeled page L-6.1-230 begins on page 230 of Section 6.1.

Each submission is divided into discrete substantive comments about a particular issue of concern or that request additional information. In general, no response is provided when the comment simply expresses an opinion such as support or opposition for a particular corridor evaluated in the Draft SEIS. On the submission, each of these comments is labeled by submission number-comment number (e.g., 234-1 would be submission number 234, comment number 1). The response to each comment appears immediately to the right of the comment, with both the comment and response designated the same identifying number.

In many cases a unique response was developed to best address individual comments. Where numerous individuals had a similar substantive comment, Sound Transit developed common responses that were used multiple times. These common responses are provided in Chapter 5 of this Final SEIS. As indicated in Chapter 5, the majority of the comments received from the public related to the following topics: requests for new HCT service to specific areas (e.g. Ballard or West Seattle); interest in specific alignments (not corridors studied in the Draft SEIS); requests for new or revised corridors that should be studied in the Final SEIS; comments on representative projects, policies, and programs; transportation issues; level of detail in the SEIS; and comments outside the scope of the SEIS.

In some instances, a comment generated a need to make a change to the environmental document. Where changes were made in this Final SEIS, the appropriate section in which the change was made is referenced in the response.
