

Burien Transit Center

The Burien Transit Center Expansion project is a Sound Transit 2 project that, in partnership with King County, increased parking at the County-owned transit center from 334 to 503 spaces. The project constructed a 462-space parking garage (which includes an initial 10 spaces for charging electric vehicles) and an adjoining 41-space surface parking lot on the northern half of the existing park-and-ride lot. By consolidating parking expansion into a garage, the project also made the remainder of the park-and-ride lot available for future development through King County DOT's Transit-Oriented Development (TOD) program.

Sound Transit has been granted an easement for continued future use of the new parking facility. King County managed project construction, and is responsible for all ongoing parking operations and maintenance.
