The Regional Contracting Forum (RCF) is the region's largest networking and informational event organized and hosted by public agencies. This free event provides small and large businesses access to decision makers and staff who are responsible for contracting, construction, architecture, engineering and procurement.

The RCF provides attendees with the opportunity to make crucial networking contacts and become informed. Forum attendees can expect:

- 100 tradeshow booths sponsored by public sector institutions
- Networking with government contracting representatives
- Matchmaking sessions with construction prime contractors and A/E prime consultants
- Large and mega project presentations by various agencies
- Business resource organizations to learn about what will help your business grow

With up to 2,500 participants each year, the RCF has been working to enhance opportunities for new and established firms in the region since 2003. All RCF partners actively strive to ensure that information and networking opportunities are available to businesses throughout the region. We encourage minority, women, veteran, LGBTQ businesses to attend.

Sponsorship opportunities available. For information contact: Yolonda Brooks at brooksy@wsdot.wa.gov or 360-522-0856
