Northgate Link Extension – Project costs are running just below the year-to-date budget plan. TBM tunneling costs above plan by $12M reflect contractor's added work to implement ground freezing at several cross passage sites to reduce construction risk and quantity of water to be pumped.

Lynnwood Link Extension – Project costs are running below the year-to-date budget plan due to delayed issuance of contract NTPs for Civil Final Design and Construction Management Consulting (CMC).

East Link Extension – Project costs are running below the year-to-date budget plan due to delayed planned acquisitions around 124th Ave NE that effect ROW and Constructions costs.

South 200th Link Extension – Project costs are running ahead of the year-to-date budget plan and are projected to exceed the annual budget by $17M by year-end, because the budget plan cash flow anticipated expenditures in 2015 that have shifted into 2016. Project remains on schedule for September 2016 opening. Project savings are estimated to be about $40M.

REX 1-90 2 Way – Project running ahead of the year-to-date plan as additional costs for roadway closures and night work were more than planned for first and second quarter. Expenditures are anticipated to align closer to budget in the second half of the year.

Tacoma Trestle Track & Signal – Variance is largely due to timing of the construction cash flow as the original budget cash flow was developed before award of the construction contract. Also, 3 parcels of land delayed from 2015 was anticipated to be condemned in early Q2, however, only one parcel has been settled. The estimated trial date for the remaining parcels is in Q3 2016 and Q2 2017.

Point Defiance By-Pass —Project remains on schedule. Table below provides current progress toward reimbursement for work performed.

Positive Train Control – Ahead of the year-to-date plan due to 2015 work that rolled into 2016 as a result of third party delays and congressional extension of the deadline for compliance. Stop Work Order is likely to be issued soon to Xorail and the contract would recommence and finish in second or third quarter of 2017. It is expected to bring the annual cash flow for 2016 back into line with budget.

Tacoma Link Fare Collection – No activity in this project any fare implementation has been postponed until the completion of the Tacoma Link Expansion project

TOD Property Disposition – substantially below year-to- date plan. The project was not able to start working on ST2 related properties as budget anticipated.

Administrative Capital – Under year-to-date plan, the budget anticipated the purchase of furniture for new office space, changes in location and move-in date to the new leased office space resulting delay of actual expenditures.

Information Technology Program – Current budget spending plan has been effected by vendor negotiations taking longer than expected and completed sub-projects have produced some savings, all contributing to the Q2 variance.
