Review of Finance Plan Projections

Key Takeaways

➢ Finance Plan remains affordable, but outstanding risks remain due to operating cost growth, economic volatility, and federal uncertainty

- Budget and TIP conform to Finance Plan
- Short-term sales tax increase due to expanded services subject to tax
- Project cost estimates and capital replacement and lifecycle maintenance plan consistent with May System Plan
- Increased operating costs reflects higher costs to operate modes and emergent agency priorities

Affordability Metrics

➢ Fall 2026 LRFP is "medium risk", the same as May System plan

	Definition	Low Risk	Medium Risk	High risk	Unaffordable	Fall 2026 LRFP
Remaining available legal debt capacity	Ability to issue debt	>20%	10-20%	<10%	<=0%	15.0%
Net debt service coverage	Ability to pay back debt	>1.8x	1.8x-1.65x	1.65-1.5x	<1.5x	1.74x

- Risk categories assess how likely the agency is to drop out of compliance with metric.
- Risk boundaries may be updated as policies, parameters, or outstanding risks change (for example, staff recommendation to adjust net DSCR policy).
- Future state – programmatic risk assessment to support thresholds.

Note: Bounds are approximate and may fluctuate based on outstanding risk

Debt Capacity & Coverage

Plan remains medium-risk

- Minimum remaining available legal debt capacity is 15.0%
- Minimum net debt coverage is 1.74x (agency policy of 1.5x or above)
- Outstanding risks and opportunities remain, which are important to holistic view of affordability

Revenues: $600M (0.4%) increase through 2052

Macroeconomic trends:

- +$500M due to tax revenues, driven by expanded scope of sales tax and inflation
- +$400M higher other revenues, driven by clean fuel standard revenue and interest earnings
- -$300M due to lower fares, driven by lower observed compliance and higher share of youth ridership

Short term increase (2027-2029) of sales tax has high benefit due to delayed debt issuance.

Projects: $100M (0.1%) increase through 2052

Project cost assumptions:

- Service delivery project forecast consistent with lifecycle maintenance and capital replacement plan
- System expansion cost estimates align to May System Plan

Macroeconomic trends:

- Fuel cost is driving higher short-term CPI

O&M: $1,000M (1.9%) increase through 2052

Enhanced passenger experience costs:

- +$500 million increase for enhanced passenger experience costs driven by growing Link system needs and rider initiatives

Additional maintenance costs:

- +$500 million for additional costs from partner vehicle maintenance contract negotiations, right-of-way upkeep, and inflation

Conclusion and Next Steps

Long-Range Finance Plan remains balanced through 2052, consistent with May update to the System Plan

Next steps: the Adaptive Management Plan will provide a structure to enable proactive risk management and decision-making

- Spring 2027 Finance Plan update of macro-economic factors, which will be used to align expectations for 2028 Budget & TIP
- Development of risk assessment to support escalation thresholds and governance standards
- Project delivery framework to support improved understanding of when updated project costs will be incorporated into the Finance Plan

Thank you.
