Total Sound Transit ridership increased by 65K, or 2.4%, compared to January 2015, and system-wide average weekday boardings increased by 8K, or 7.6%. One fewer weekday in January 2016 resulted in modest growth across all modes. In addition, fewer Seahawks playoff games this year impacted average Saturday and Sunday boardings.

ST Express ridership decreased by 27K, or 1.9%; however, average weekday boardings increased by 2K, or 2.4%, meaning that the decline in total ridership is due to one fewer weekday. At the route level, ridership on Route 550 (Bellevue – Seattle) increased by about 4% and continued to average over 10,000 weekday riders.

Sounder ridership was up 19K, or 6.1%, compared to January 2015, while Sounder average weekday boardings were up 16% and reached an all-time high of 16,000 boardings per weekday. This record was set despite one fewer weekday and two days of cancellations due mudslides on the North Line.

Tacoma Link ridership decreased by 6K, or 7.4%, compared to January 2015, and average weekday boardings were down by 3.7%. The January ridership decline during the month is likely due to one less weekday. There were also fewer events in the service area.

Link ridership was up 80K, or 9.7%, compared to the same period last year, and average weekday boardings were up 15.6%, to almost 35K boardings per weekday. The increased peak frequencies on Link support increased ridership by providing more opportunities to customers in advance of University Link.

Paratransit services, provided by King County Metro, decreased by 19.1% compared to January 2015, driven by changes in eligibility that were implemented in 2015.
Monthly Ridership Trends by Mode

ST Express

ST Express ridership decreased 1.9% compared to January 2015; however, average weekday boardings increased by 2.4%. Growth was tempered by one less weekday and fewer Seahawks home playoff games.

Sounder System-wide

Sounder system-wide ridership increased by 6.1% compared to January 2015, with a 16% increase in average weekday boardings. The growth in weekday boardings offset the drop in weekend boardings related to fewer Seahawks home playoff games.

Tacoma Link

Tacoma Link ridership decreased by 7.4% compared to January 2015, and average weekday boardings decreased by 3.7%.

Sounder North

Sounder North ridership was down 9% compared to January 2015; due in part to one less weekday this year, fewer event trains, and two days of service cancellations due to mudslides.

Link

Link ridership was up 9.7% compared to January 2015, with a 15.6% increase in average weekday boardings.

Sounder South

Sounder South ridership grew by 8% compared to January 2015, despite one less weekday and fewer weekend event trains.
